

The Department of Health asks for cooperation from all factories to assess themselves through Thai Stop COVID Plus (Good Factory Practice), which is a public health recommendation to prevent the spread of the epidemic, consisting of measures and guidelines for entrepreneurs and workers, as well as guidelines in case of finding an infected person, by requiring factory owners to self-assess at least every two weeks. (19/6/2021)

---